This project simulates a traffic light system using an Arduino. When a button is pressed, the Red, Yellow, and Green LEDs turn on in sequence, mimicking real traffic signals. The Serial Monitor displays instructions corresponding to each LED state.